The wounded henchman shouts as you casually step over the body of his deceased comrade. “Loyalist dog! You’re already dead and just don’t know it!”

Despite his bold words, when you look closer you can see him shaking. A simple nudge might be enough to turn him into a full-fledged informant.

- I inform the guard we are the scouts for a GloPac strike team.
- I administer a garden-variety beating.
- I help him to realize how unimportant he is.
- I casually point out that if the guard does not help me, I will cut off his face and eat it.
