In addition to creating the world's largest digital health brand and the largest global digital health consumer brand, the combined company will have over 150 million users from around the world and a broad and deep portfolio of digital health solutions. This combination of assets will create a $100 billion global market for companies and organizations who need to make a highly personalized choice when they use a digital health app. For example, with the combination, if an individual user from either company already enjoys the operating system of their smartphone, they can easily download a "Quirky" app and enjoy the benefits of the operating system on their phones, tablets or on their home screens. I'm proud that the Quirky team has worked hard in its short existence to become the most innovative digital health company in the world, and after 10 years, we're excited to take Quirky to the next level as part of Humana. The combined company will have a truly global footprint and reach customers at every stage of their lives: in a medical facility, a home, or on the go, Humana and Quirky will offer personalized recommendations in digital health and wellness. We're eager to expand our efforts to show people what Humana can do to change their lives in a positive way. For example, people who are living with chronic conditions or who want to reduce the risk of chronic conditions can improve their health and reduce their chances of a major health condition. I couldn't be more excited about this new company and our journey together. As the CEO of this new company, Humana, I will accomplish my goals and build a company with new initiatives and businesses that deliver a better quality of life for people around the world.//-- // Greenplum Database // Copyright (C
